

Standard Operating Procedures Annual EORS Meetings

Revised Version 13 August 2018

Original Version 29 March 2015

1 General consideration

The EORS Annual Meeting is the most important activity of the European Orthopaedic Research Society with respect to its mission, its members, its outreach into the scientific community and financial commitment. Thus, terms and recommendations on how to organize the meeting are valuable information for the Local Organizing Committee (LOC) and facilitate the effective collaboration with the EORS Executive Committee (EC).

This document provides a statutory framework and experience based advice to successfully and efficiently organise the EORS Annual Meeting. The brief bulletin format is chosen to serve as a checklist.

EORS welcomes adding innovative features to the meeting beyond what is written in this document.

2 Conference Objectives

- To present and discuss, at high scientific standard, the current state of orthopaedic and related research in Europe and beyond
- To attract a large, multidisciplinary and international audience
- To facilitate networking, exchange and cross-pollination.
- To have interdisciplinary balance of content (biology, materials, biomechanics, clinical)
- To have international, well-balanced mixture of attendees representing
 - European countries
 - scientific backgrounds related to orthopaedic research
 - clinicians and non-clinicians (basic scientists)
 - professional status (senior, junior, residents, industry)
- Financial profit shall not be the main goal.

Audience:

- Expected number of delegates
 - based on previous figures, 300-500 paying delegates can be expected
 - growth path suggests that 500 or more attendess at future meetings is realistic
 - Budget options shall allow break even at 200 paying delegates
- Note: The number of delegates is often equal to the number of accepted orals and posters with non-author registrations balancing multiple authors. Thus, for a high number of delegates, a high number of abstract slots for presentation, especially as orals is important.

3 Programme (Format & Content)

General:

- Interdisciplinary balance of content (biology, materials, biomechanics, clinical) must be reflected in programme, announcements, call-for-papers and keynote speakers
- Cross-disciplinary sessions to join clinicians, biologists and engineers are encouraged

Time frame:

- Minimum duration: 2.5 days
- 2-day free papers, ½ day or 1 day pre-conference workshops/symposia
- Preferably Wednesday (½ day), Thursday, Friday
- Preferably September/October
- Check scheduling conflicts with ESBiomech, ESBiomat, ISTA, Termis, ICORS, your national meeting(s)

Venue:

- Preferably within academic institution, and/or close to city or with good transportation links
- Minimum 2 parallel free paper sessions
- Rooms:
 - Minimum 2 large rooms for 2 parallel session
 - one with plenum capacity, min. 250
 - other min. 100-150
 - with typical audio-visual system

- Poster area for
 - min. 200 posters (recommended A1-portrait size) with all posters on display all the time
 - min. 100 posters (recommended A1-portrait size) with display split between two days
- Pre-course workshops/symposia rooms
 - 2-4 rooms for 2-4 parallel sessions (for a minimum of 6 workshop/symposia slots)
 - Capacity e.g. 20-30 per room
- Slide Preview room (or desk)
- Registration desk (area)
- EC meeting room (10 capacity, projector, only for 14:00h-19:00h on day 1 of the meeting)

Features:

- Free paper (oral) sessions
 - High number of oral slots secures high delegate number
 - Short slot times possible, but ample discussion time (e.g. 5+3 min)
 - Minimum 2 parallel sessions
 - Co-moderation: Senior expert plus Young Investigator
- Poster sessions
 - Capacity for a total of ca. 200 posters or more
 - Paper posters, digital only complimentary or partial
 - Minimum 2 dedicated poster programme slots
 - All posters on display all (both) days,
 - or half (100) on day 1 and half (100) on day 2

 - Oral/Poster
 - Award nominees

Awards:

- Awards categories:
 - Best Overall
 - Oral presentation (all categories), named the “Edward Valstar Award”
 - Poster presentation (all categories)
 - Best Young Investigator (first author)
 - Two times 3 categories: biology & biomaterials, biomechanics, clinical
 - Oral presentation in 3 categories
 - Poster presentation in 3 categories
 - Definition of Young Investigator
 - valid for YI registration and YI awards for ease of collecting and confirming status
 - see 7, Financial arrangements
 - If a young investigator wins a “Best Overall” award, the candidate does not receive two awards. The YI award of this category is given to the next scored author.
 - Since 2018, the ON Foundation sponsors one Best Presentation award for the best abstract and presentation related to Regenerative Medicine.

ECTS Credits:

- Essential to attracting clinicians and thus sponsors
- Announce, even when still pending, on website, email campaigns, etc.

Guest Country:

- Optional/recommended feature
- The Guest Country scheme aims to highlight the research centers, experts and expertise in a specific country in order to increase pan-European networking and collaboration.
- Suggested features
 - Special Guest Session (workshop(s))
 - Keynote speaker(s)
 - Country representatives in Scientific Committee (SC), Reviewers, Jury
 - In programme book, highlighting abstracts by guest country
- Note: The guest country scheme is a proven successful way to attract additional workshops, abstracts and delegates and increase networking with specific countries.

Abstract submission, review and registration system:

- EORS recommends the use of oxfordabstracts.com as the system to manage abstracts, review and registration. This way, future meeting organizers, authors and delegates can benefit from established templates.

4 Promotional activities

- Effective, frequent, staged, and mult-channel promotion is essential to raise meeting awareness and reflect the relevance and quality of the meeting. Meeting promotion also is promotion for the society and thus important beyond the meeting and supported by the society.
